GENERAL GUIDELINES

Physical training involves serious risks of injury, disability, and/or death. The proper use of all equipment helps reduce such risks but does not eliminate or guarantee protection against them. Use only under the supervision of a skilled instructor/trai

Minors using these products should have constant, qualified, adult supervision. Do not use old, modified, damaged, or improperly fitted equipment. The condition and effectiveness of the gear may diminish with time and use.

Consult your physician before beginning any exercise program. Know your limitations.

PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT GUIDELINES

Protective products are for non-contact use or light-contact use only, unless otherwise stated on the product. Light contact use is defined as force not causing pain, injury, penetration, or visible movement of the opponent.

SPARRING GEAR AND TRAINING GUIDELINES

Sparring gear and accessories are intended only to reduce the risk and severity of accidental injury to protected areas during supervised, non-contact sparring or light-contact sparring. Light contact/force is defined as force not causing pain, injur

All sparring participants should wear full sets of equipment. Recommended minimum: head guard, hand guard/mitt, foot guard, chest guard, shin guards, mouth guard, and groin guard.

Sparring gear is intended for use during the practice of the sport for which it is designed (e.g. martial arts sparring gear used for martial arts and boxing sparring gear used for boxing), not for other purposes, or more intense uses (e.g. moderate to fu gloves are for impact protection and are only intended for light contact on soft training targets such as padded shields, hanging bags, speed bags, etc. light contact is defined as impact not intended to cause pain or injury.

Padded training mats provide a margin of protection and shock absorption but are not sufficient padding for many training purposes.
